Record Number of Reliance Deliveries Now at Sea

Leading UK-based yacht management and delivery specialists, Reliance Yacht Management Ltd are currently progressing delivery of more than fifty boats to destinations worldwide. A mix of new, secondhand, private and charter vessels, each captained by a professional skipper, are located across the Mediterranean, Atlantic, Pacific and Indian Oceans.

Says Nick Irving: Managing Director of Reliance: "This is the largest number of boats at sea which we have ever handled simultaneously and is the greatest test to date of our logistics and shoreside support infrastructure. We are working extensively with a well-established network of resources, systems and expertise to expedite every boat safely along its route and handle any unforeseen circumstances with minimum disruption."

Key to the safe passage of so many yachts is the frequently updated global meteorological information provided by an independent weather routing system. Satellite communications are also used at a personal level to enable owners to track their daily progress of the boat via the Internet. During delivery, each boat will undergo an exhaustive inspection of every part to identify any faults and, if possible, repairs will be carried out en route. A full report of the boat's condition and handling will be made to the owner on completion of the delivery.
